TWO RENOWNED DESIGNERS JOIN ROCHE BOBOIS' ELITE ROSTER OF COLLABORATORS

Here's a first—literally. The fall 2024 offerings from Roche Bobois feature two new collaborations with designers the brand has never worked with before. Designed by Franco-Chinese artist Jiang Qiong Er, the Bamboo Mood line is a modern interpretation of the traditional Chinese lounge in shades of celadon and coral, two iconic colors in Asian decorative arts.

Also new to the Roche Bobois catalogue is renowned French designer Patrick Norguet and his Elanta line, a grouping of tables, chairs, and sideboards marked by intricate woodwork. Expect more from these creators in seasons to come.

Glass Acts

Ruvati's new Murano Collection of sinks includes a seashell design in pearl white (ABOVE), a circular version in black (RIGHT), and a seashell version in brown (BELOW).

Murano is to glass what caviar is to food. The mere mention of the name instantly denotes legacy, pedigree, and superior artistry. Ruvati's new Murano Collection of hand-blown glass sinks certainly lives up to that description. The new line offers two styles: a sleek circular basin and a seashell design in vivid colors of blue, green, brown, or black with a glossy finish that make them ideal choices for a standout powder room. ruvati.com
